Fall Corset Models

IN connection with our displays of fall styles, we remind you that the fall models in corsets have been received. It is an understood fact that a suit or dress of one season cannot look well if worn over a corset of a previous season. Among the new corset models you will still find many high bust models but the favorite models have the graceful low bust and are very long over the hips. We can fit you with a correct fall model in any of the following well known corsets.

It May Be That the Child's Eyesight Is At Fault

It is a well known fact that school children are often punished for seeming indifference to their studies. The child may be naturally bright but if there is eye trouble it will be only a short time until he falls behind in his classes. The child does not know if he has eye trouble, neither does the school teacher, neither do his parents. There is one way to find out—ASK SEGALL.

Next week we will devote special attention to examining the eyes of El Paso school children. In this same connection we remind you that since 1901 Segall has satisfactorily fitted the majority of El Paso school children who found they needed glasses.
